

A new logo for a new Tange...

At Tange, we know and love the bicycle. We have been producing bicycle frame tubing and fork assemblies for over 70 years. The sport of cycling and the bicycle itself are undergoing rapid change. Along with dramatic advances in cycling technology, the bicycle is being used by more people for sport and recreation. Furthermore, the bicycle is being gradually but surely recognized for the contribution it can make to solving the problems of pollution and congestion in our cities.

The growing dynamism in the bicycle industry is opening new doors for Tange. We have expanded our business philosophy. We are going in a new direction, taking a more dynamic, intensive, and multi-faceted approach to bicycle design and cycling performance.

This new forward-looking spirit of Tange is reflected in our new corporate logo, a symbol of our commitment to the future of the bicycle.
